To Whom It May Concern,

This letter certifies that Ms. [redacted] is currently a patient of our rheumatology clinic at the [redacted] medical center, where she has been seen since May 9th 2018 for an elevated antinuclear antibody titer. While she does not have evidence of an underlying connective tissue disease, she has been diagnosed with fibromyalgia, meeting the American College of Rheumatology criteria. It is my medical opinion that it is more likely than not that her fibromyalgia symptoms are exacerbated by her history of post-traumatic stress disorder.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at [redacted] if I can be of any further assistance.
